Met will lead a sound bath, cacao ceremony, and reiki. She will offer integration and nurturing support throughout, creating a grounded space where participants can feel safe to let go and step into their truth with authenticity.

Darren has been a practitioner in the healing arts for over 25 years. He holds a grounded understanding of the human condition, and with a strong intuitive sense he is able to support people through their process. On the retreat Darren will be contributing with Iyengar yoga classes and integration and reflection circles. His main therapy is SomatoEmotional Release, this helps people to unwind old behavioural patterns and release stored trauma. It helps to re-write the emotional code in the psyche - the work can be life changing.
